

The Smoke-Free Workplace

30 minutes of breathing secondhand smoke causes heart damage similar to that of regular smokers.

Non-smokers regularly exposed to secondhand smoke suffer death rates 30 percent higher than that of unexposed non-smokers.

Bar employees' exposure to secondhand smoke is 4 to 6 times higher than other food or beverage service workers.

Working a shift in a smoky bar is equivalent to actively smoking nearly a pack of cigarettes per day.

The American Samoa Smoke Free Environment Act prohibits you or your co-workers from smoking in enclosed workplaces.

You and your employer could be fined as much as $250
